WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

Change Management for AI Adoption is a practical, hands-on workshop designed to help leaders and teams successfully navigate the human and organisational side of AI transformation. The programme explores why many AI initiatives fail — not due to technology, but because of resistance to change, lack of trust, unclear communication, and insufficient leadership alignment. Participants will gain a clear understanding of AI transformation challenges, change management foundations, and how to assess organisational readiness across mindset, skills, and culture.

Through structured frameworks, real-world discussions, and interactive activities, participants will learn how to design AI adoption roadmaps, lead teams through uncertainty, and build psychologically safe, AI-ready workplaces. The workshop focuses on practical implementation — including governance, capability development, communication strategies, and adoption metrics — ensuring participants leave with a clear, actionable AI Adoption Action Plan that can be immediately applied within their organisations.
