WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

This practical 2-day workshop will help participants effectively manage probationers, poor performers and employee misconduct in accordance with Malaysian employment and industrial relations practices. Participants will gain a better understanding of disciplinary procedures, performance management and termination processes to ensure fair, consistent and legally compliant workplace practices. Through case studies, discussions and practical examples, participants will also learn how to avoid common legal and procedural mistakes that may lead to costly disputes or Industrial Court claims. The program equips managers and HR practitioners with practical tools to maintain workplace discipline, improve productivity and foster better industrial harmony.

This 2 days interactive program will enable participants to have a better understanding and hands-on experience of managing difficult employees, handling disciplinary and termination procedures in order to achieve better industrial harmony and greater productivity.
